MEXICO, THURSDAY, MARCH 20, 1873.

News of the Week.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Governor Dix has arrived at a definite decision. Foster is to be hanged on Friday, March 21.

The German geographical societies propose to send an expedition to Western Africa to supplement the discoveries of Dr. Livingston.

The most remarkable suicide of the time is that of T. F. Anderson, cashier of Lambertson's Bank, Franklin County, Pa. He gathered and placed in the fire, bank-notes, bonds, and bank papers to a very large amount, and then ran home and shot himself.

William Cullen Bryant, Gov. Noyes, of Ohio, Chief Justice Chase, and Judge Rockwell, of Massachusetts Superior Court have written letters to Mr. Whittier, favoring the resuscitation of the resolutions concerning Mr. Sumner.

The commission appointed to examine the mental condition of George Francis Train have pronounced him insane.

Still another effort has been made to save Foster. An affidavit signed by seven of the jurors in the Foster case that they supposed a recommendation to mercy would have the effect of reducing the sentence to imprisonment for life has been presented to Governor Dix.

WASHINGTON.

In a recent examination for promotion in the International Revenue Bureau under the civil service rules, one lady secured a fourth class clerkship, $1,800; another third class, $1,600; while of ten other persons appointed to second class clerkships, $1,400, six are women. Miss Seavy, who secured a fourth class clerkship, has been employed in the office for more than ten years, and for several years has had exclusive charge and direction of the copying division.

A warrant was issued by the Treasury Department in Washington, on Monday, payable to the order of Governor Dix, for $107,000 due the State of New York for expenses incurred in raising and equipping volunteers in the late war.

Senator Boutwell, of Massachusetts, appeared, was sworn and took his seat on Monday.

Assistant Secretary Richardson is appointed Secretary of the Treasury in the place of Mr. Boutwell.

Hon. James Brooks is confined to his bed in Washington, and all visitors are denied admission.

The members of the cabinet assembled at the White House, at noon on Tuesday, and were sworn into office. The President has appointed a number of practical mechanics commissioners to the Vienna Exhibition.

FOREIGN.

The resignation of the ministry and its acceptance by the Queen was announced on Thursday in the House of Commons by Mr. Gladstone and in the House of Lords by Earl Granville. When Mr. Gladstone rose to make the announcement in the House of Commons he was received with cheers, and an adjournment until Monday was granted. Mr. Gilpin gave notice that at the sitting on Monday he would move a vote of confidence in the ministry. The motion was received with cheers.

Both Mr. Disraeli and the Earl of Derby have formerly declined the responsibility of forming a government.

Mr. Gladstone will probably resume the premiership. Disraeli is unwilling to form a government with the present House of Commons. Parliament has further adjourned until Thursday.

Sound Views.

Gov. Dix's letter, declining to commute the sentence of Foster, is published in the morning papers, and will satisfy all fair-minded people that the Governor has done the only thing he could do so long as the State pretends to punish the crime of murder by death. Speaking of the communication asked for, the Governor says:

It seems to me that the inevitable effect of such a proceeding on my part under the circumstances of this case would be to impair the force of judicial decision and break down the barriers which the law has set up for the fortification of human life. To this act of social disorganization I cannot lend the executive authority confided to me by the people of the State. I deem it due to the good order of society to say that so far as depends upon me the supremacy of the law will be inexorably maintained, and that every man who strikes a murderous blow at the life of his fellow must be made to feel that his own is in certain peril. If we can not by firmness of purpose attain this end, we may soon be forced to acknowledge the disheartening truth that there is nothing so cheap and so ill-protected as human life.

A Lynching Scene in California.

A dispatch from San Francisco, on Tuesday, says: The lynching of Torpey, the murderer of Mrs. Nicholson, near Monterey, last night, created great excitement in that city. The mob fastened the rope around Torpey's neck and compelled him to stand in the box of a wagon. He was then told that he must say all he wanted, for his time had come. Torpey addressed the crowd for half an hour. The lynchers then drove the wagon away and left the man hanging by his neck to a limb of a tree, his feet almost touching the ground. The crowd seized the rope and drew Torpey up higher. Several of the lynchers drew pistols and fired into the body of the dying man. At last accounts the body was hanging and the mob watching the place. The affair caused intense excitement. For several hours armed men held possession of Monterey and declared they would take Torpey safely to Salinas for trial. The jail guards offered no resistance, no shot were fired and no one injured. Torpey's wife and mother were near the jail and witnessed the whole affair, and begged with prayers and tears the mob not to injure him. The leaders promised that Torpey should not be hurt. The mob numbered over 300 and were heavily armed. Torpey's relatives live in this city and are well known here.

Lewis Joiner a former resident of Geneva who committed sundry murders and other crimes there, but escaped punishment through looseness in the law, has at length met his just deserts, by being shot dead at Chicago, while plying his vocation as a highway robber.

Murder of a Girl in Syracuse—Remarkable Death of the Murderer.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 17.—At two o'clock this afternoon a man by the name of Albert Keeler, aged twenty-one years, killed a girl named Ida Spencer; a nephew of Miss Spencer's father. He is a Canadian, and had been visiting with Mr. Spencer about three weeks. Mrs. Spencer went to Oswego to-day and left her daughter alone in the house with two old ladies, one of whom was sick and the other deaf. Keeler went out into the kitchen, then left the house by the back door, and ran down towards the Central Railroad depot. A freight train had just started for the East. Keeler attempted to jump on the end of the caboose for the purpose of escaping out of town, when missing hold he fell back upon the track. His head struck the rail; his neck was broken, and he was killed instantly. The motive which prompted Keeler to kill Miss Spencer is not known. It is said that he might have made improper advances to her, which she repelled, and that he killed her, fearing she would divulge his attempt. It is also said that Keeler was heir to some property which Miss Spencer had secured out of the money he had received. The murder created intense excitement, and so does the sudden retributive justice which overtook the murderer. The parties moved in good society. They were expecting to go to Kansas with a colony shortly.

The Syracuse Standard, though believing Keeler was the guilty man, gives this another theory of the matter:

Still another theory is that he did not commit the murder at all. At three o'clock a lady living on Dudley street, saw a man in a wagon drive up to a barn in the rear of the Spencer House. He got out and hitched his horse, and then she saw him walk towards the Spencer House, and lost sight of him just before he turned the corner of Fitch street. Another lady takes up this thread and affirms that she saw this standing man on the front steps of the Spencer House about three o'clock, and some fifteen minutes later saw him go back to his wagon, get in and drive away.

LATER.—Mrs. R. H. Spencer, in answer to questions by a reporter of the Standard, said: "I think he (Albert Keeler) was insane. He couldn't have any reason for doing the deed. He and Ida had always been pleasant together. I never knew them to have the least trouble."

BEAUTIFUL SNOW AND OTHER POEMS.—The publishers T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, have sent us a copy of their New "Illustrated" Edition of this work by J. W. Watson. It is elegantly bound in maroon morocco cloth, with full gilt sides and back, full gilt edges, bevelled boards and tinted paper, a fit setting for such a gem as is its leading poem. Perhaps there never was a poem which met with such sudden and widespread popularity, or was attributed to so many celebrated authors, as "Beautiful Snow." Its highly dramatic, combined with its practical character, ranks it among those poetical effusions which will make it acceptable in any age and country where our language is understood. The other poems are also from the same hand, and evince a lively fancy and a hearty sympathy with human joys and sorrows.

Price $3; in green morocco cloth, gilt top and side $2. It is for sale by all booksellers, copies of either edition of it will be sent to any one by the publishers, post-paid, on receipt of the price of the edition wished by them.

A Montreal husband who married a Montreal widow, has brought discredit on his proud sex by letting his feelings run away with him. Exasperated by a continuous recital of his predecessor's virtues, he rushed to the cemetery and vented his feelings by smashing No. 1's monument, being himself afterwards subjected to a course of scratches, from which he is slowly recovering.

It is curious that so many people find humor in paragraphs like this. Jibing and joking about the tenderest and most sacred of relations is, after all, rather a sorry business.

MYSTEROUS CASE.—The Utica Observer a few days ago had this curious paragraph:

"Two ladies, one from Watertown and the other from Sandy Creek, started from the latter place for Utica ten days ago and have not since been heard from. It is supposed that they are living on a hay stack under twenty feet of snow. An exploring expedition is being arranged to search for the missing ones."

Meteorology.

The coldest day in the month of February, 1873, was that of the 20th, 0° 3' below zero. Warmest day, the 14th, 39.6°.

Average temperature at 7 a. m., 16°, at 2 p. m., 25°, and at 9 p. m., 18°.

The mean temperature of the past 20 Februarys was as follows:

Yr. Deg.	Yr. Deg.	Yr. Deg.	Yr. Deg.
1854 23.6°	1861 27.7°	1868 14.9°
1855 17.7	1862 23.3	1869 22.2
1856 18.4	1863 23.7	1870 20.2
1857 23.0	1864 24.6	1871 22.2
1858 25.3	1865 19.9	1872 19.4
1859 27.8	1866 21.4	1873 19.8
1860 23.2	1867 26.5

The past winter was not only remarkably cold, but steadily cold, with drifting snow. Usually we have deep snow in February, and this year we have had in all 6 feet 6 inches fall previous to the first of March, with scarcely a "warm spell" to settle it, and in many places it is badly drifted, all tending to interfere with travel.

The mean temperature of the three winter months, viz.—December, 1872, January and February, 1873—was 18.5°. This has been the coldest winter, with the exception of 1866-7, during the past 20 winters.

The amount of rain and melted snow 7.3 inches. E. B. BARTLETT.

THE LECTURE—on Saturday evening, given by Rev. S. P. Merrill, of Adams, owing to the severe rain storm, was thinly attended; but those who were there enjoyed a rich treat. The subject—"Switzerland and the Switzer"—was attractive, and we regret that ourselfs and so many of our citizens were unable to hear it.

On Sunday the Methodist and Presbyterian congregations, being small on account of the storm, adjourned to the Baptist church to hear Mr. Merrill, and were richly rewarded. We hope the reverend gentleman will some time visit our village under more favorable circumstances.

DR. A. B. BOWEN—left home on Monday morning for an absence of four days at Iowa City, where he goes for the purpose of attending upon the commencement exercises of the Iowa University. Dr. Bowen goes as a member of the committee on examination of candidates for graduation in the Medical Department. Though comparatively a young man, the Doctor's reputation has spread beyond the limits of his own neighborhood, and State Societies call upon him for counsel and advice. This must be very flattering to him and strengthen the confidence of his patrons. By the way, his extensive and increasing practice attests to a due appreciation at home.—Maquoketa (Ia.) Excelsior.

[Dr. Bowen is a nephew of Dr. B. E. Bowen of this village, was for some years a student here and has many friends in our midst who are glad to learn of his success. Ed.]

UNPAID LETTERS.—It is held by the Post-Office Department that the recent decision of the Attorney-General, that double postage should not be collected at the office of delivery on the unpaid portions of letters partly prepaid, by at least one full rate, does not apply to mailable matter of the third class, namely, pamphlets, occasional publications, magazines, unsealed circulars, books, manuscripts, &c. By the act of January 9, 1873, all mailable matter of the third class must be fully prepaid by stamps at the office of mailing, and if not thus fully prepaid, should be held for postage, and not forwarded to its destination. If, however, through the inadvertence of the postmaster at the mailing office, such matter should be mailed without such full prepayment, by section 152 of the Postal Code, the postmaster at the office of delivery must charge and collect double the prepaid rate.

THE ANNUAL MEETING—of the stockholders of the Syracuse, Phoenix and Oswego Railroad Company was held in Syracuse on Tuesday of last week, and made choice of the following board of directors for the ensuing year: George G. Breed, Oliver Breed, Cheney Ames, Willard Johnson, Stephen O. Howard, George F. Comstock, Alfred A. Howlett, Allen Monroe, James J. Belden, Horace K. White, Joseph J. Glass, Thomas Gale and Lucius Gleason. At a subsequent meeting of the board George G. Breed was re-elected President, Thos. Gale, Vice-President, Allen Monroe, Treasurer, and P. H. Agan, Secretary.

WHO ARE G. H. HILMAN & CO?—We see by an advertisement in the Star Spangled Banner, that this firm, located in Mexico, Oswego county, N. Y., will send a battery for plating gold and silver, &c., to any address on the receipt of $150. We know nothing of such a firm, which must be carrying on its operations in some underground locality.

Services at Grace Church.

The Rev. J. W. Bonham, Evangelist of Central New York, who has held special services in Grace Church, in this village, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this week, will also hold another this (Thursday) evening. Mr. Bonham is an earnest and able preacher, whose discourses have been full of interest and profit to his hearers, and those who have missed them have missed sermons of rare excellence. We hope the church will be full this evening.

Bishop Huntington will preach on Sunday evening next. Services commence at 7 o'clock.

LOOMIS.—Mrs. Martha Loomis spent yesterday at the jail with Denio. Her nephew, whose claim to notice is that he is supposed to have furnished the horse with which Denio escaped from Pulaski, was also there. Denio is complaining of not feeling well, and the ostensible object of their visit is to be with him, cheer him up, and to take care of him. Loomis, it is said, has given up trying to get bail, and the officers suspect that he now contemplates trying to escape. He is probably armed, but the public may rest pretty secure that he will not over-match Sheriff Lyman and his assistant, Col. Dempsey. Loomis now repeats having given himself up after escaping from Pulaski—a proceeding that did not work as was expected.—Osw. Times, Tuesday.

Jury Drawing.

The following grand and petit juries for the County Court and Court of Sessions, term beginning in Oswego, March 31, were drawn last week.

Grand Juries.—Wm. W. Miller, Jackson Reynolds, George A. Fuller, Isaac T. Pierce, Stephen Cathcart, Granby; James Chapman, Owin Curtis, Silas D. Crowfoot, Hannibal; Thos. McAustin, Schuyler C. Cheshire, New Haven; Maxon Lewis, S. L. Parsons, Oswego town; Wm. A. Wybourn, C. M. Mead, Thos. Kelly, John Strohfield, Thos. S. H. Butler, James Gibbs, Thos. Singleton, H. W. Copp, I. P. Wetmore, Chas. Allison, Ephraim M. Andrews, Isaac G. Jenkins, Edward Kelly, Oscar E. Shepard, Ira Servis, Geo. E. New Haven.

MR EDITOR:—I suppose New Haven shares with the rest of the world in changes, seen and unseen. We have been enjoying nearly a week of "just lovely weather"—sunshine and moonshine. And it has been well used by nearly all who were able to roll into a sleigh or cutter. The works will start with a capacity to manufacture ten box cars per week, and the manufacture of passenger coaches and other things will be taken up as soon as arrangements can be made. Within a year from now Mr. H. is confident that from 100 to 150 men will be employed in manufacturing, and within the succeeding year the number will be doubled. The name of the works will be the "Herrick Car Works."

The Syracuse Standard has this compliment for Judge Whitney:

"The Loomis family continue their efforts to secure the release of the notorious Denio Loomis from an Oswego jail. But they don't seem to make much progress. The rock which stands in their way is Judge Whitney, who firmly declines to have anything to do with the Loomis family's 'promise to pay,' if two well known and honest citizens sign the sureties. But the signatures of the honest citizens of the country don't seem to be forthcoming. The natural inference is that Denio has little dealing with that kind of people in that country."

The "Sunday School Concert," of which honorable mention was made by a Correspondent in the last week's Independent, being as he intimates, a success, has done much to strengthen the growing attachment of the members to the school. To show that all were interested in the success of the entertainment it is enough to say that while about sixty different persons were expected to take part in the exercise, and these well scattered, not one was absent, at the ring of the first bell, and was promptingly seated from beginning to end. The organist, Willis L. Morgan, who presided at the instrument during the entire entertainment, did himself great credit by the skill he exhibited as a musician. He appears to be a musical above his years, and promises much in the future. The Church and Sunday School are much indebted to him for his prompt and faithful services.

WHO ARE G. H. HILMAN & CO?—We see by an advertisement in the Star Spangled Banner, that this firm, located in Mexico, Oswego county, N. Y., will send a battery for plating gold and silver, &c., to any address on the receipt of $150. We know nothing of such a firm, which must be carrying on its operations in some underground locality.

THE SPRING TERM—of our Academy opens auspiciously. Mr. and Mrs. Coo and their assistants have proved themselves faithful and efficient teachers, deserving the patronage and entire confidence of the people, and we hope their efforts in behalf of the school will be appreciated and rewarded.

Yours ever,

STARR.

The Spirit of the Age, and its Influence upon the Church.

The spirit of the age is the tone or characteristic of the people at the given time. It may include a great many things. These many things may be quite different from each other; yet there may be certain laws of affinity which bring all together, and form by the great diversity the real spirit of the age. The spirit of the age may be skeptical or it may be religious; it may be scientific or commonplace; may be characterized by freedom or oppression; may be inspiring and elevating, or the contrary. When you hear men say that such and such thing is contrary to the spirit of the age, that does not settle the question that the thing condemned is bad. The spirit of the age may be wrong, as it often is; and certainly, in that case, it is a noble thing to go against it. Most fearful things have been done under the influence of the spirit of the age. Socrates was sentenced to death by the spirit of the age, Christ was crucified by the same spirit. Millions of Christians have been burned at the stake at the instigation of the spirit of the age. The spirit of the age changes. It may not be the same in one country as in another. In China it is not the same as in Russia, and in Japan it is not the same as in Germany. The spirit of the age in the United States is not the same as it was during the last century, and the spirit of the age in England is not the same as it was during the time of Queen Elizabeth.

As we contemplate the spirit of the age that now characterizes many nations, we notice certain peculiarities. There is a cry for more liberty than formerly. Universal freedom and universal toleration are the demand of the time in which we live. Education for all is another feature; and perhaps many years will not pass by before the education is made compulsory. I think the spirit of the age is working out gradually, but surely, against Church and State; and we may live to see the day when an established Church will not be found—not even in New York. The spirit of the age as it shows itself, is quite human; in some respects it is quite material. There is a good deal of the high-sounding about; a vast amount of pretension and fussiness; altogether too much of painted emptiness. There is not sufficient depth, not sufficient reverence, not sufficient soul and subtlety. The spirit of the age, as looking towards religion, is touched with sentimentalism. There is a frail tenderness and prettiness about it; a kind of moonlight existence; an apparition life. The spirit of the age goes for change; as if everything that is new ought to be true. There is a good deal of restlessness, a good deal of the outward, a demand for that which is practical. Observation, the sense-life and thinking, gilded civilization, wear-some pleasure, are driving for the ascendancy. There is a dash also at science; a wonderful rush of power; the heavens expanding; the earth opening; law and force grasping the immensity of being; God shut out. The people are turned into the gulf stream, and that moves on. The drift, not being divine and supernatural, the way is death. Still, every manifestation of the spirit of the age is not wrong. There is misdirection, one-sidedness, a want of balance; but there are a vast number of powers that may be used for good by a guiding hand. The thing is to find that guiding hand.

In what way now does the spirit of the age affect the Christian Church? In many respects it tends to weaken it. There is a laxness seen everywhere. That laxness has entered the Church. The religion that is wanted for these times is an elastic religion. Men do not wish to be trammelled. The old stringency of God's law will not answer. The Puritan age is gone. Give us more liberty. Give us the religion of conscience. The Bible says: "The people sat down to eat and to drink, and rose up to play." That is what is wanted. Restraint, submission to authority, are vanishing away. The lawlessness of the nation has entered the Church. The grand thoughts of eternal justice, eternal holiness, the eternal God, are they governing and guiding our Church members? Certainly not in every case. Who can help seeing a want of spiritual tone, a want of steady principle, a want of moral daring among the followers of Christ? Is there not now an attempt to compromise? Are not men trying the impossible thing of being worldlings and Christians at the same time—"lovers of pleasure," as well as lovers of God? Are not even different churches competing with each other? Not competing in regard to who shall be the holiest, but competing in regard to the width of the church door? Is not that the church for the time that can give the greatest amount of worldliness, and the smallest amount of Christianity? It would seem as if professedly Christian people were losing all hope in regard to the power of the gospel of Christ. They wish to advance the kingdom of God, not by the efficacy of an infinite redemption, but by the efficacy of fallen men whose hearts have never been changed. Churches must live, they want members in order to live; but Christians are not willing to pray, believe, and live a holy life, in order that men may be converted, and they try other methods of replenishing the church—methods that please quite well the native heart of man. Almost every person believes that religion is important; but every person also desires to have his own way. If any church, therefore, can devise a plan to suit these two characteristics, it would seem as if that church must be successful. A man then can be a saint and sinner at the same time. He can swear, and also pray; can drink, and partake of the communion; can dance and hymn God's praise; can enter a theatre, and also a church; can break the Sabbath, and also keep it; can go to heaven, and also to hell. Glorious invention! well suited to the "advanced thinking of the age."

EUSEBIUS.

DISCOUNT ON DULLNESS.—The New York Observer, being a religious paper, may be appropriately heard on the question treated below. It says:

The time has gone by for dull preachers. The activities of the age, the diffusion of knowledge by schools, books and periodicals, the spirit of inquiry, the spirit get money to educate dull boys because they are pious, is robbing God, and a fraud upon the church. It is a crime or a blunder, and sometimes both.
